

VERMONT NEWS.

Automobile Accident.

One man was killed, another man and a woman may die, and two women were seriously injured in a collision between a trolley car and an automobile near the Vermont soldiers' home in Bennington on Memorial Day. The dead was Henry L. Knapp, 40, a saloon keeper. The injured are: William D. Newton, 69, proprietor of a garage badly cut about the head and internal injuries, may die; Kate McGuire of Bennington, 38, two ribs broken, head cut, internal injuries, probably will die; Mrs. Kate Knapp of Bennington, 42, one broken rib, head and face cut, will recover; Miss Mary Flaherty of Bennington, 22, jaw broken, face cut, will recover.

Improved Train Service.

Arrangements have been made with the Grand Trunk system to run special trains from Montpelier Junction to Port Huron, Mich., or beyond, if business warrants, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays of each week. The trains will be operated exclusively for goods shipments and the object is to assist Washington county manufacturers in further developing their business in the west by giving them proper and regular service for over 600 miles and at Port Huron tunnel connections will be made with through trains of the Grand Trunk for junctions with other western roads.

State Insurance Report.

The report of the state insurance commissioners, made public June 1, shows that the insurance companies doing business in the state paid in the adjustment of losses in 1909, $395,403, for 1,822 fires against the payment of $138,545. For 1908, there were 210 fires for $137,775 in 1908. There were 210 chimney fires the aggregate damage from these amounting to $119,171.

The total amount of life insurance held by citizens of the state in legal reserve companies was $85,348,140, against $60,786,645 for the year before. Regarding the National Life Insurance Co., the commissioners say that the report of the special examiners states that the company's condition is sound in all respects and that the company is able to fulfill all of its obligations to its policy holders. During the year of 1909 eight fire, one life, four fidelity and casualty, and one assessment accident insurance company have been granted permission to operate in the state. This was offset by the withdrawal of three fire, one fidelity and casualty, and three assessment accident companies.

To Explore Labrador.

A scientific expedition to the west-central part of Labrador for the following summer is being organized by Prof. Raymond McFarland of Middlebury College. The expedition will go by rail to Lake St. John, Quebec, thence by canoe to Lake Mistassini via the Chamouchouan river and the Fox Lake. After a brief stay at the Hudson Bay company's post on the lake the expedition will proceed to the eastward where field-work and study of the unexplored region about Little Lake Mistassini and Lake Temiscamie will be made. Return to Lake St. John will be made via the Mistassini river; in this way, about 700 miles will have been covered by canoe and portage.

The purpose of the expedition is to obtain a better knowledge of the unexplored interior of Labrador and to add scientific data to the geographical and geology of the height of land. While the expedition is primarily a private venture it will receive the co-operation of a well-known scientific institution of Washington, D. C., which will furnish part of the scientific equipment of the party.

Fewer Deer Killed.

A great falling off in the number of reports of deer slaughtered, since March, between 55 and 60 were reported, is due partly to the passing of the snow which allows the deer a better chance of escape from pursuing dogs and in a measure to the vigilance of game wardens as there is a large reduction in the number illegally killed.

The whole number reported for April and May was 32. Of these 17 were killed by dogs, eleven were shot, two were found dead, cause unknown, one was killed in wire fence in Clarendon, and one was killed by railway train in Randolph.

Automobile Registration.

Guy W. Bailey, secretary of state, turned over June 1 to E. H. Deavitt, State treasurer, $40,806.57, which has been received by him since March 1 for the registration and licensing of automobiles, for wholesale liquor license fees and for charter fees. For the latter he received $1,295, for wholesale liquor license fees, $10,774 and the remainder $28,737.57, was for automobile registration and for automobile license fees. For the same period last year from this source $15,728.18 was received, showing the great increase in the number of automobiles in the State. This is also a larger amount by $787.98 than was received from that source for the entire year from March 1, 1909 to March 1, 1910.

Since January 1, 1910 automobiles have been registered in the State, against 1,658 for the entire year of 1909. The new cars registered thus far this year in Vermont number 384 and these cars have an average horse power of 25.1.

The $10,774 received for a wholesale liquor license fees came from 26 dealers. The charter fees are derived from 27 new charters that have been issued. The receipts from automobile registration and license fees for the three months ending June 1, by counties is as follows: Addison, $910.50; Bennington, $1,442.13; Caledonia, $2,681.26; Chittenden, $3,308.34; Essex, $268.87; Franklin, $1,142.63; Grand Isle, $129.25; Lamoille, $901.63; Orange, $1,039.08; Orleans, $2,170.25; Rutland, $4,927.38; Washington, $3,829.63; Windham, $3,220.39; Windsor, $3,892.95; non-residents, $197; sale of number plates, $76.50; total receipts, $28,737.50.

Old Man in New England.

Joseph Wood, of Weston, died May 31 at the age of 110 years and three months, lacking six days. He was undoubtedly the oldest man in Vermont and perhaps in New England. He was born near Montreal, P. Q., February 24, 1800, according to best information obtainable. He had lived in Weston nearly 24 years. His paternal grandfather lived to the age of 112 years. His father died at the age of 99 years. Mr. Wood had been totally blind for about 10 years. His memory was retentive to the last. His early life was passed as a woodman in the Canadian forest.

Merchants Day in Morrisville.

The Morrisville merchants have practically decided to inaugurate a Merchants bargain day for each week, the first to be held on Wednesday, June 22. The main purpose of this grand opening day will be to get the people out and acquainted with the promoters of the new idea, and no pains will be spared to make the event one long to be remembered and of practical benefit to the visitors. Among the attractions will be free dinners to all visitors, teams taken care of and fed free of charge, free band concert, free lemonade, etc., etc. The merchants have formed an association with the following officers: President, A. G. Small; vice president, B. J. Kelley; secretary and treasurer, W. F. Benson; executive committee, A. G. Small, H. Waite, A. L. Cheney, L. P. Thayer, W. F. Benson. Finance committee, George P. Drowne, A. W. Stone, and George F. Earl.

Twice Sold as a Slave.

Benjamin Robinson of Randolph, colored, died June 1. In the year 1862, while the Vermont troops were marching through Wilmington, N. C., he was accosted by them while ploughing in a field near by, though he was but a boy of ten years. The soldiers invited him to join their ranks, but he replied that he did not know what to do with his horse, but on being told to leave it he very readily consented to be one of their number, and fell into the ranks beside John Manney of Randolph and was in his company, Co. C, 9th regiment, for two years. He first acted as servant to Captain Livingston of Montpelier and later to Lieutenant William Holman of Randolph.

At the termination of Mr. Holman's service, he took "Ben" back to Vermont with him and gave him the advantage of a district school education, which he improved so well that he acquired quite an education, which made him capable of doing business for himself. When he arrived of age, Lieut. Holman gave him $200 and sent him out to get a living for himself. Before joining the 9th of the 9th regiment, he was twice sold as a slave, once with his father and later alone. His mother was also sold to a dealer in New Orleans, and he never heard from her afterwards.

Vermont State Fair.

The preparations for the Vermont State Fair for 1910, at White River Junction, are already under way. The fair opens on Sept. 20, 21, 22 and 23. Even these early indications point to a greater cattle exhibit than has made conspicuous previous state fairs. This year Maine farmers will be represented with stock exhibits. The Maine exhibit oxen alone will be one of the most notable. Vermont cattle will be extensively shown, the number of exhibitors and the number of cattle being in excess of last year's event. Every New England state will have big cattle showings, as well as New York state, Ohio, other western states and Canada.

The state forestry commission has planted over an acre of different varieties of pines and by fair time this planting will be in shape to convince spectators of the practical use waste land may be put to. The Boston and Maine railroad has set out on the grounds nearly four acres of different varieties of apple trees, the idea being to show that apples can be made a large product of the farm when properly handled. Arrangements are under way with the railroad companies for low rates during fair week. Every effort will be made to increase the attendance and the slogan "greatest horse and cattle show in New England," is the foremost thought of President Everts and the members of the commission.

Grand Lodge, F. and A. M., Loses Suit. A decision was filed Thursday with the Chittenden county clerk by Judge Z. S. Stanton in the case of the Grand Lodge of Vermont, F. and A. M., L. T. Tilton, versus the City of Burlington, for the defendant to recover its costs. Exceptions were noted for the plaintiff and it is probable that the case will go to the supreme court.

This suit was brought to recover three years' taxes on the Malone temple, the cost of collecting them, etc., paid to the city under protest. The Masonic body contended that the order was exempt under the law as a charitable institution. The case was heard during the last session of county court.

The Check Surprised Her.

Mrs. Julia C. R. Dorr of Rutland the well known poetess, recently had an unusual experience in receiving from one of her publishers a check for a balance due on writings published almost 40 years ago. Not long ago Mrs. Dorr received from the J. B. Lippincott company of Philadelphia a letter telling her that the plates for her first book of poems, which was published in 1872, and also for a story, "Sybil Huntington," published about the same time, were still in existence and asking what should be done with them. Mrs. Dorr requested that the plates be destroyed and thought no more of the matter as they were never her property. She was greatly surprised a little later to receive a check for the value of the old metal that was in the plates and a balance that was found to be due her for her first publications.

Too Valuable to Lose.

Carmi White of Randolph has been investigating the value of skin milk when fed to stock and has come to the conclusion that he no longer cares to sell the whole milk off from his farm. He has 16 pigs to which he is feeding 250 pounds of skim milk a day and they are responding to that treatment by putting on 16 pounds of flesh by actual weight every day. With pork worth nine cents a pound skim milk that can be converted into pork so easily is too good to throw away.

Admiral Charles E. Clark and family will spend the summer at Lake Mansfield as guests of Dr. Homer C. Brigham of Grand Rapids, Mich.

Rev. Otto S. Raspe of Morrisville has been called to the Universalist church of Gardner, Me.

The Montpelier & Wells River railroad announces that it has raised the price of its 1000 mile mileage books from $25 to $30.

A substantial sum of money to help the Boston Cooperative Milk Producers' company carry on its contests with the milk contractors has been raised in Brattleboro, Dunsmuirton, Putney and Brattleboro, in that county and forwarded to the headquarters of the company in Boston, thus showing the spirit of those producers, although they are receiving the winter schedule of prices, which is higher than the summer schedule, under a temporary arrangement.

Co-education at Vermont Academy ends with this school year and hereafter the institution will be for boys exclusively.

New G. A. R. Hall Dedicated.

Exercises Held on the Evening of Memorial Day.

The following report of the dedication of the new G. A. R. Hall on the evening of Memorial day was read by Adjutant Charles Ross at the regular meeting of the Post on Saturday evening, and the details of this exercise will be of interest to all who are interested in the past and present of the defenders of our country.

Comrade E. L. Hovey in the chair rapped the hall to order and after stating something of the purpose of the meeting a piano solo was given by Mrs. Mary Adams Green. The chairman then announced the presence of a great-granddaughter of Gen. John Stark of Battle of Bennington fame, and she was introduced to the audience as Miss Ella McKee of Bedford, Mass., by Comrade D. P. Celley. A reproduced portrait of Col. George E. Chamberlin was formally presented to the post by Commander May and received in behalf of the comrades by the Post Adjutant. This fine reproduction was the present of a sister of Col. Chamberlin now living in Lincoln, Ill., Mrs. Caroline Chamberlin Lutz, on her learning of the loss of the original portrait, the gift of Mrs. McAlpin, the wife of the colonel, the late living. Mr. May had received word from Mrs. Lutz that the descendants of the Chamberlin family would see to it that the brightening of this reproduction should be maintained undimmed.

The address of dedication was made by J. Rolf Searles, and was very effective and well received, full of instruction and intelligent ideas, assuring the comrades that it was an honor to be called to this pleasant task. In behalf of the comrades of the post Chairman Hovey extended thanks to Mr. Searles for his splendid effort and kindly expression of interest in the post. All were then entertained by a chorus of young singers from the Summerville school, led by Mrs. Eklof, who presided at the piano.

"Who shall perpetuate Memorial Day" was then discussed by Commander May, who said the question was already solved by the patriotic endeavor, so earnestly demonstrated by the Women's Relief Corps all over our land, and especially so by Chamberlin Relief Corps No. 4, of St. Johnsbury. The same camp of Sons of Veterans now organized, was also another factor in its solution. In a fully written paper Mrs. Sarah F. Hovey discussed the "Objects of the W. R. C.," showing most conclusively both by the increasing interest and constantly increasing membership that not alone as an auxiliary to the G. A. R., but love of country, patriotic enthusiasm, and earnest endeavor to perpetuate home life and home loves, was among their object.

Rev. B. F. Butler, a son of a veteran, called the attention of the comrades to the fact that the many who will be awakened by our Post Hall in future generations. Chief among the many will be the deep patriotism of the veteran as shown by their selections for its permanent and its suggestive equipment. This address will long be remembered for its scholarly, earnest, patriotic endeavor. After another old-time song suggestive of the camp and march, by grade nine of the Summerville school, Superintendent Corwin F. Palmer spoke of the education needed for patriotism. First and foremost, obedience, and respect for authority, training for service, thorough knowledge of what patriotism means as inculcated by our so-called common studies. This address was full to the brim of thought, suggestion, and matter for reflection by all who have the training of the young in the mind. Alexander Dunnnett took up the matter of Lee's statue in Statuary Hall at the capitol of our nation. His reasoning was from the standpoint of a true national patriot, that there was no reasonable call for a memento of one who was educated at the expense of the government and who took up arms against it, or placing his statue beside those who had proved themselves by their life work loyal and true defenders of its honor.

Rev. E. A. Hoyt, the orator of the afternoon, was introduced, and in a very pleasant manner referred to previous acquaintance with St. Johnsbury, and many of its men, concluding with the strong desire he felt for its best good. No more touching tribute to the mothers of this nation's defenders could have been given than by Rev. E. A. Hoyt. Leonard, the next speaker. So much of our nation's honor, resting in the hands of the mothers in our homes, and the noble patriotic manner in which they ever have borne this duty, could not have been expressed in more forcible language.

Comrade L. W. Fisher offered a resolution of thanks to the officers of the Citizens Savings Bank for the patient and acceptable manner in which they had borne with the matter as they were never her property. She was greatly surprised a little later to receive a check for the value of the old metal that was in the plates and a balance that was found to be due her for her first publications.

Comrade Woodbury presented a resolution of good will and thanks to Rev. E. A. Hoyt, which was unanimously adopted by all comrades present and left with the gentleman in person.

Comrade Rollin C. Ward read a resolution expressing the appreciation of comrades of this Post to a woman who kindly assisted in honoring deceased comrades; to the children from the several schools of the village and town; to all and every organization so cordially and promptly responding to the invitation to assist in forming a parade; to the schools, superintendents, teachers and pupils who have spared no pains to render such efficient aid and entertainment; to those whose addresses have been so helpful and instructive along patriotic lines; and last but not least to Chamberlin Relief Corps No. 4, without whose aid our best efforts must have counted failure. This resolution was but the unanimous, heartfelt, expression of every comrade of Chamberlin Post.

Capt. Hovey was in especially good form throughout the entire exercise and much assisting towards giving one of the best of the kind ever held by this Post, so eminently successful along these lines.

Women's Clubs in Convention.

Annual Meeting of State Federation Held at Rutland.—Good Work Accomplished by Various Committees.

The 15th annual convention of the State Federation of Women's Clubs was held at the Universalist church at Rutland, June 1 and 2, about 70 delegates being present. Greetings were extended from the New York State federation by Mrs. Arthur Holme of Albany, N. Y., and from the New Hampshire clubs by Mrs. C. G. Shedd of Keene. Addresses of welcome were made by Mrs. Henry A. Harman in behalf of the Rutland Woman's club, Mrs. J. B. Needham for the Progressives, and Mrs. W. F. Nelson for the Unity club, each being president of the club she represented. Mayor Carpenter welcomed the ladies in behalf of the city and Lieut. Gov. John A. Mead gave them a further cordial welcome. The response to the words of welcome was given by Mrs. Charles H. Spooner of Northfield. The convention was entertained by the choral class of the Rutland Woman's Club which sang several selections. On Wednesday evening Mrs. George T. Chaffee threw open her beautiful home to the visiting delegates and nearly 300 ladies attended the reception. The rooms were lavishly decorated with flowers and ferns and the Stafford-Meloch orchestra furnished music. In the forenoon of the second day was given to reports by presidents of the various clubs and chairmen of committees, and two able addresses, one by Mrs. J. B. Needham, and the other by Mrs. P. F. Hazen on state penal institutions. It was reported for the committee on legislation that through Governor Prouty an effort was being made to ascertain the number of children in the state defective in one or more senses. Another announcement of great interest to the federation was the final settlement of litigation whereby a legacy of $56,000 at Brattleboro has become available for educating these children and a farm of 200 acres has been bought for the same purpose.

In the afternoon Mrs. Marcus M. Merritt of the Boston Daughters of Vermont gave greetings from that body of women. Mrs. Ashton gave her report as state president, telling of indications of prosperity for the year, and a very pleasant meeting with a public session at the church. Enjoyable music was furnished and Mrs. Walton Quinn of Boston gave another of her delightful readings. The address of the evening was given by Miss Rhoda A. White, dean of women, Middlebury college, and professor of sociology. She took as her subject "Rural Problems," discussing it under the heads of the school and the church.

The same federation officers will serve until the next annual meeting. Some matters brought up for discussion were the capacity for entertaining delegates, and the time taken at the meetings for reports by presidents of the clubs, neither of which were acted upon. The large picture, "First in Peace," presented to the Federation a few years ago by the Daughters of Vermont, was hung in the church where the meeting was held, and it was voted to send it to the Industrial School at Vergennes for the summer months.

mark the wonderful progress of the age. Air flights on heavy machines, telegrams without wires, terrible war inventions to kill men, and that wonder of wonders—Dr. King's New Discovery—to save life when threatened by coughs, colds, influenza, asthma, croup, bronchitis, hemorrhages, hay fever and whooping cough or lung trouble. For all bronchial affections it has no equal. It relieves instantly. It's the sure cure. James M. Black of Asheville, N. C., R. R. No. 4, writes it cured him of his asthma after all other remedies failed. 50c. and $1.00. A trial bottle free. Guaranteed by Flint Bros. and F. G. Landry.

Ricker's Local Market. The receipts at W. A. Ricker's market for the week ending June 6, 1910, were: Poultry, 300 to 10 to 12 cents. Lambs, 15 to 3 to 6 cents. Hogs, 200 to 8 to 8 1/2 cents. Cattle, 25 to 2 1/2 to 6 cents. Cakes, 425 to 3 to 4 cents. Milch Cows, $28 to $60. Beef and veal firmer, hogs inclined lower.

The Conservation of Nature's Resources Applies as well to our physical state as to material things. C. J. Budlong, Washington, R. I., realized his condition and took warning before it was too late. He says: "I suffered severely from kidney trouble, the distress being increased in my family. I have taken four bottles of Foley's Kidney Remedy, and now consider myself thoroughly cured. This should be a warning to all not to neglect taking Foley's Kidney Remedy until it is too late." C. C. Bingham.

W. Lee Hicks of Berkshire was arrested last week charged with smuggling 49 barrels of maple syrup and 3000 pounds of sugar from Canada. He was held in $1500 bail which was furnished. The sugar was seized at Enosburg on May 12, by United States Marshal Horace W. Bailey, and has been in his custody since that time.

Use the American Throat Tablets. French Submarine Sinks After Being Smashed by Packet Steamer. Dover, Eng., May 27.—Twenty-seven men were drowned in the English channel when a French submarine was struck by the packet steamer Pas de Calais. The passengers on the latter were thrown into panic and the ship herself was so badly damaged that she had to put back to Calais. The submarine was crushed and went down within a few moments while all the crew were caught like rats in a trap.

This is the sixth serious accident in the French submarine flotilla in five years. Fifteen men perished on Oct. 17, 1906, when the submarine Lutin went down after an explosion. In the other accidents no lives were lost. Thursday's disaster is one of the worst in the history of the development of submarines. The fighting ship was scudding along partly submerged when the steamer crashed into her. According to the reports reaching here the submarine spun around for a moment and the water began to pour through the big rent in her plates. Before a man could escape she had foundered in one of the deepest parts of the channel.

A NOISELESS FOURTH

Bay State Abolishes Old-Time Racket on Independence Day

Boston, May 27.—Governor Draper yesterday afternoon signed the quieter Fourth of July bill, which is to take effect June 1. This bill prohibits the sale of certain pistols and explosives and authorizes the making of regulations relative to fireworks and firecrackers.

The new law makes it illegal to have blank cartridges, toy pistols, toy guns or toy cannon that can be used to fire a blank cartridge; have any fireworks containing picric acid; have any firecracker exceeding two inches in length and three-quarters of an inch in diameter.

PRESENCE UNKNOWN AND CRIES UNHEARD. Presidio Infantryman Shot to Pieces on Rifle Range

Monterey, Cal., May 31.—Claude Hetherton, a private of Company K, Thirtieth Infantry, U. S. A., was stationed at the Presidio, who was taking measurements of the rifle range, was literally shot to pieces by a firing squad at practice, and died after lingering in the reservation hospital for two days.

All during the afternoon of the day he was shot, Hetherton crept about on the embankment, while the bullets whizzed about him. His cries could not be heard. After the first bullet had brought him down he made an effort to drag himself out of range, but no matter which way he turned, his escape was cut off by the flying missiles.

Finally he sank on the sand mound awaiting the shot that would end his torture. Bullets sped about him, ripping his clothing and tearing his flesh. When markers found him, his head had been shot nearly off.

MAKES A RECORD DROP

Wright Descends 2700 Feet at Rate of Twenty Miles an Hour

Dayton, O., May 27.—Orville Wright made five flights here, in one of which he reached an altitude of 2700 feet, from which height he landed at terrific speed, reaching the earth in eighty-eight seconds, or at a rate of over twenty miles an hour, thus establishing a world's record for descent.

The machine dropped under perfect control and landed within fifteen feet of the end of the starting rail.
